Objective

A full stack web developer with extensive education, and intensive experience in the world of computer science. Looking for a full stack Ruby on Rails Developer position within a thriving environment.

Education

2008-2014 BSc. Computer Science, Life Sciences
(Combined Major)
University Of British Columbia

Experience

Mar 2015 - July 2015 Ruby on Rails Developer
Champ Technologies Inc.
"Online marketplace connecting homeowners with home service professionals" - worked here in a team of two developers on the "Champ Manager" Web Application. Tasks included implementing Ruby on Rails backend (including AJAX, polymorphic associations/features, RSpec testing, working with JSON data, Javascript, and learning/working with React JS).

Jan 2015 - Mar 2015 CodeCore Ruby on Rails Developer
Bootcamp
Many of the practical skills I possess come from or have been refined from my experience here - including things like GIT VC and Heroku App Deployment.

Mar 2012 - Mar 2015 Paladin Security
Health Care Security Officer
Worked at Richmond General Hospital, in a team of 3 security officers. Aggravated, or inappropriately acting patients and visitors often caused high pressure situations requiring on the spot thinking and quick action.

Projects

CodeCore (codecorex.herokuapp.com)

A collaborative group project consisting of 11 developers. Users are asked a series of coding questions to test their programming ability. Frontend developed with HTML, SASS and JQuery. Backend developed using Ruby on Rails.

SWDS (mymusic8.herokuapp.com)

Allows users to search through millions of songs (via third-party APIs), and select and save their favourite songs into their own collections. Backend developed with Ruby on Rails. Front End developed using HTML, CSS, JQuery, Javascript.

TwitterWordCloud

(github.com/Marcelo33/TWITTER_WORD_CLOUD)

A simple app which displays a word cloud based on your most used words within your personal tweets, as well as your twitter home feed. The more time a word is used, the larger it appears in the cloud. (NOTE: Many of the my other projects/code can be viewed at my Github page).
